A. E. WRIGHT'S OPINION.

Mr. Tilden's speech in the Constitution and the State of Affairs.
Rome, GA., July 25, 1878.

EDWARD CONSTITUTION: Will you permit me, Messrs. Editors, first, to pay you my respects? Your compliment by telegraph is an admiring one, and I hope Georgians may well be proud of it. In the late exciting war between Russia and Turkey and its corollary, the Barlin congress, its column of foreign news summary was not surpassed by any paper in the world. It is really prefered to the New York Tribune. Its literary column is always judicious, sometimes brilliantly witty. It is especially smart upon our beloved John Sherman.

Its review of home and general news is always interesting, and with its editorship it is general knowledge an honor to the state.

But as our beloved brother Paul once wrote to certain brethren, in his attack upon the independents of the state, and especially of the seventh congressional district, "I praise you not."

It is resounding of the seventh, but I am humble "hanger-on," and pretty well conversant with the people of said seventh, and when you charge any intrigue upon these people with Mr. Hayes's administration, permit me to say you are all wrong.

We have no intrigues with any body.
What "some prominent democrat," so called, in Atlanta may have written, we do not know. "God made the people in a great city upright, but they have wrought many iniquities." In view of the doings of the last two months, it has been suggested to us.

The movement in the seventh is a spontaneous one of the rank and file of the democracy for a purer and better democracy. If we have had lately one or two good nominations, we should like to know what power excited the movement. The forces of nomination Your Atlanta "prominent democrat" may be making overtures to the republicans. We of the seventh district have made none. Felton stands out to-day, after Mr. Stephen's most powerful democratic of the house, and there is absolutely no democratic paper in the union that has not spoken of him.

The only dissatisfaction of The Constitution is that he would not submit to an appeal to the people. Why did they not nominate him here, as the will of Mr. Stephen? What is the will of all others know he must pass through the pulling-mill of a convention?

What do you think of some conventions? What do you think of the St.
Louis convention? What do you think of the largest bondholders and national bankers in the union for the support of the democratic party? And suppose it does again—what do you think? Is there any limit in your patience with these conventions?

We of the seventh, the 7th, are a humble and unprincipled people, in pursuit of great financial principles without which there can be no prosperity to the great producing classes, and they are the ones to the country. The great money dealers, among the wealth of the world, are with the vitalis of the republic. God and liberty for the sons of toil. Very truly,

Augustus R. Wright.

The Fairbank Meeting.

Fairbank, GA., July 25, 1878.

EDWARD CONSTITUTION: I have been generally understood that there would be public speaking here to-day by the Hon. P. S. Smith, W. O. Tug-gee and Henry E. Harris, candidates for congress from this congressional district, there was a host of people who gathered at the court-house to hear them speak.

Hon. P. S. Smith fired the first gun and tore in twain taxation, railroads, capitalists, monopolies generally, revenue internal and external, and stated that if he was in congress he would vote to prohibit the sale of land to any lands whatever to a railroad company, in pursuit of great financial principles without which there can be no prosperity to the great producing classes, and they are the ones to the country.

He was a Campbellite and as such he supposed the people would give him their support etc.

Mr. Tuggee from some cause or other was predominantly hindered from attending.

After Col. Smith closed Hon. Henry R. Harris spoke about one hour. He said that what Col. Smith had said was very decent and had been trying to do for the people of the seventh district on account of being in the minority.
He gave a report of his stewardship while in congress, and told the people that he had done all that a mortal man could do, and what more did they ask.
He said, "I am a Christian, "We did them a faithful service." The audience felt that their old friendship was rekindled from Col. Harris's forcible and eloquent manner of speech. Col. Harris gained a good many friends here to-day. He made an ingenious and telling speech.
Col. Harris is confident of his nomination, and the people are of the same opinion.

PARKER.

THE MEXICAN DOLLAR.

An opinion on them.

Washington, July 25.—A circular, issued at the treasury department to day, says: Section 3,583 revised stated does not favor gold or silver coins shall be a legal tender in the payments of debts. Mexican and trade coins, therefore, have only bullion value. At the present price of silver bullion, Mexican, U. S. trade dollars and all other foreign silver coins are purchased at the Philadelphia mint and New York assay office at the equivalent of London rates for silver bullion on day of purchase, less one-half cent per ounce of the latter contained.

The Vatican Abroad.

Rome, July 25.—Changes in the foreign representation of the vatican are postponed till November, when papal inter-nuncio, having a semi-official service to England. England will not send representatives to the vatican.

Trade With Cyprus.

London, July 25.—A private telegram from Trieste announces that the Austrian Lloyd's steamship company has arranged for a weekly steamer service to Cyprus by way of Alexandria.

A Denial.

Berlin, July 25.—A statement telegraphed from Frankfort to the London Times on the 23d inst. that a conference of all the German ministers would be held at Heidelberg shortly is denied;

THE BULGARIANS IRITATED.

LONDON, July 25.—News has reached Vienna that the treaty of Berlin has caused great irritation among the Bulgarians, who since Russian occupation, have been in a ruined class in eastern Europe. The chief Bulgarian party has been formed at Adrianople to agitate for Bulgarian unity. The committee has telegraphed to Prince Lab-off, Russian ambassador at Constantinople, to Akakoff, chief of the Pan-Slavic propaganda at Moscow, and the exarch with instructions of them.

THE RUSSIAN ARMY IN MOTION.

CHICAGO, July 25.—A special despatch to the Times from Capron, Ill., says that a dramatic suicide occurred on Tuesday night. George W. Burleigh, an old resident of Ohio, last Sunday.

PUBLISHED A CARD.

Arrangements for a march of American troops into Bosnia is now complete down to the last detail, and forces are ready to cross the frontier at any hour, but the order to march will not be given before the end of the week, as the Austrian government is anxious to complete arrangements with Turkey in order to enter province as a friend and not as an enemy; but with or without the good will of Turkey, the order to march will be delayed.

Further examination of Garfield was postponed till to-morrow morning after a continuous session of six hours.
The committee adjourned.

A ROMANTIC SUICIDE.

patch to the Times from Capron, Ill.,

NELLIE'S DEATH.

CINCINNATI, July 25.—The coroner's verdict to day upon the death of Nellie Fayton, a young girl, who was shot dead by her husband, Charles Joseph Fayton, in the city, Monday, is that she came to her death from a pistol ball wound in her heart, and that the husband of the deceased had shot her.

There are indications that the action is already setting in; the masses beginning to realize the harm agitation might do to the country.

THE ITALIAN DEMONSTRATIONS.

In the house of commons to-day, Joseph Cowen, radical member for New Castle on Tyne, presented a petition of the working-class to demand the impeachment of Beaconsfield. Charles Edward Lawia, conservative member for Londonderry City, rose to a point of order, but the speaker allowed the presentation of the petition.

DOCUMENTS SOUGHT.

Robert Bourke, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, replying to Gladstone, said he had received a copy of the memorandum of the Schleswig-Holstein agreement without other documents accompanying it, and those could not be produced without the consent of other powers. Gladstone said he would make every effort for the production of the documents.
Mr. Bourke, replying to Lord Huntington, said he had been asked to permit the production of forged and raised checks.

JOHN DON'S.

Special despatch to the Constitution.

CINCINNATI, July 25.—John Doe, convicted of robbery, was sentenced to life before Justice Crockett and swears off against the legislature. Three other indictments are pending against him. The prisoner will be charged with a special service operator for extradition, having failed to prove an alibi.

THE BREWING TROUBLE.

General and Fearful Strikes Expected in the North.

NEW YORK, July 25.—A Wilkes-barre gentleman engaged in the manufacturing business says the chances are that the miners will be called out to strike again. The miners are more active than they were engaging with the board and examining papers. In other respects the conduct of the miners is good.

AUGUSTINE'S TESTIMONY.

That he was not understood by the returning board, and that he remained governor until he was succeeded by another power. This same day he was adjourned to the house of representatives as senator and the United States senator recognized him as legally elected.

AN ADMISSION THAT WILL FIT.

A. But I do not understand that the party opposed to Packard lost the power to contest.

CAN AN INSTALLED EXECUTIVE BE TURNED OUT?

Q. After a man has been declared elected by the returning board and been inaugurated as governor do you think that the legislature can turn him out? Do you understand that can be done?

A. I do not understand it.

BUTLER EXAMINES THE VESSEL.

Washington, July 25.—The vessel that was detained at Cincinnati on account of high water. After proceeding from there it was stopped at two o'clock this morning, two miles north of Lightning Creek, and the crew were sent ashore to assist in removing the vessel from the water. The vessel was set adrift and was taken to the rear of the boat.

MANUFACTURED THE VOTE.

For the last few days causeless alarms have been raised in the community for the safety of the citizens. It is evident that the rife among them has, in addition to other crimes, driven negroes from their homes to the swamps; and he could not think of the scenes of violence and intimidation in Louisiana in 1876 without feelings of horror and anger. The witness never asked Mr. Butler to give him a copy of his letter, but he did so when he was asked to do so.

At this time he had no copy of his letter and he did not know whether it was written to the returning board or to the legislature. He did not know whether it was written to the legislature or to the returning board.

AN ADMISSION OF SOMETHING ELSE.

Chairman Potter—I will leave the

STRONG POINT

In the New "Domestic Machine" is its silence during operation. The machine is simple, bold, and easy of operation, simplicity, beauty of finish, and last (not least by any means) its low price, are the chief features of the machine. It is a machine that is well made, and those who are seeking a good machine, our claim: The Best Machine is by our constantly improving sales to ladies who have therefore insisted about using a machine until they saw the "Domestic."

MADE STRONGER

The Coming race in Griffin.

A few days since we published an article from the Griffin News stating that a match race of mile heats, best two out of five to horses, would be trotted in this city on the 10th of August between Minnie Taylor, of Atlanta, and John Kimble Jackson, of Griffin, for the sum of $1000. It was thought by the means of a challenge by Mr. Wm. Hodges of this city, to trot the mare against Grinn's famous trotter. This challenge was accepted.
